Adopted by the Board on 8 November 2023

Enlitic, Inc. Securities Trading Policy

1 Purpose

The Corporations Act:
 - (i) imposes substantial penalties on persons who breach those provisions; and
 - (ii) applies to the extent of any inconsistency between it and this policy.
- (b) This policy regulates dealings by directors and certain officers of Enlitic, Inc. (Enlitic or the Company) and other designated persons, in securities in Enlitic about which they acquire Inside Information through their position or dealings with Enlitic.
- (c) This policy is not designed to prohibit Enlitic Persons from investing in Enlitic securities, but does recognise that there may be times when directors, officers or certain employees cannot or should not invest in Enlitic securities.

3 Insider trading

3.1 General prohibition on insider trading

- (a) No Enlitic Person may, while in possession of Inside Information concerning Enlitic, in breach of the Corporations Act:
 - (i) buy or sell any Enlitic securities at any time;
 - (ii) procure another person to deal in Enlitic securities in any way; or
 - (iii) pass on any Inside Information to another person for that person’s own personal gain by dealing in Enlitic securities in any way.
- (b) All Enlitic Persons are prohibited from dealing in the securities of outside companies about which they acquire Inside Information through their position with Enlitic.
- (c) The requirements imposed by this policy are in addition to any legal prohibitions on insider trading. Trading of Enlitic securities is governed by, amongst other things, the Corporations Act, the ASX Listing Rules, applicable U.S. securities laws and regulations, and other applicable securities laws. As Enlitic’s securities are traded on ASX, this policy focuses on Australian securities laws, however the securities trading laws of the jurisdiction in which the transaction occurs should also be considered. Trading in Enlitic securities is prohibited at any time by a director or an Enlitic Person if that person possesses Inside Information.

3.2 Inside Information

An Enlitic Person is responsible for assessing whether they possess “Inside Information”. This occurs where:

- (a) the person possesses information that is not generally available to the public and, if the information were generally available, a reasonable person would expect it to have a material effect on the price or value of Enlitic’s securities (or a decision whether or not to trade in them); and
- (b) the person knows, or ought reasonably to know, that the information is not generally available and, if it were generally available, a reasonable person would expect it to have a material effect on the price or value of Enlitic’s securities.

A reasonable person would be taken to expect information to have a material effect on the price or value of securities if the information would, or would be likely to, influence a person who commonly invests in securities to either deal or not deal in securities in any way. Inside Information in relation to the securities of outside companies has the same meaning for the purposes of this policy, except that references to “Enlitic’s securities” should be read as references to the securities of the outside company.

4 Additional Restrictions on Dealing for Enlitic Persons

- (a) Enlitic Persons, subject to sections 4.3 and 6, may not buy or sell Enlitic securities outside of a Trading Window.
